FACULTY

One era passed and a new era with new ideas emerged. Mr. Richard Harris, the first Superintendent of Archbold Area Schools, introduced many new and rewarding ideas into our school system during his first year of service. Mr. Harris believes the primary task of the superintendent is "to implement programs that would benefit all students."

Under the supervision of Mr. Harris, teachers had monthly workshop meetings and improvements were made in the school curriculum and music departments. Mr. Harris met with the school board regularly and reported the progress of the schools to the board members.

Mr. Harris, born in Oakwood, Ohio, has a B.S. degree from Ohio State University, a Master's degree from the University of Toledo, and an E.D.S. degree from Bowling Green State University. Before Mr. Harris came to Archbold, he was the Superintendent of North Baltimore. Mr. Harris and his wife, Dolores, have two daughters, Cynthia, a student nurse, and CeAnn, in the sixth grade and one son, Richard, in the seventh grade.

Board Of Education

The school board is composed of five elected members. Serving as president is Lowell Short, and Hal Hackett is vice-president.

The school board's main function is to make school policies. From left: John Zimmerman, Hal Hackett, Lowell Short, Dale Pape, Evan Bertsche, Dale Nafziger. Seated: Mr. Harris.

Principal

During 41 years of teaching, Mr. Burkholder has helped many students. He feels that his most important duty is the assigning of schedules to individual students. Co-ordinating the high school's functions takes much of his time.

MR. BURKHOLDER, Principal

MARVA WYSE,
Secretary to the Principal

MR. WINFIELD, Guidance Counselor

MISS RUPP, Dean of Girls

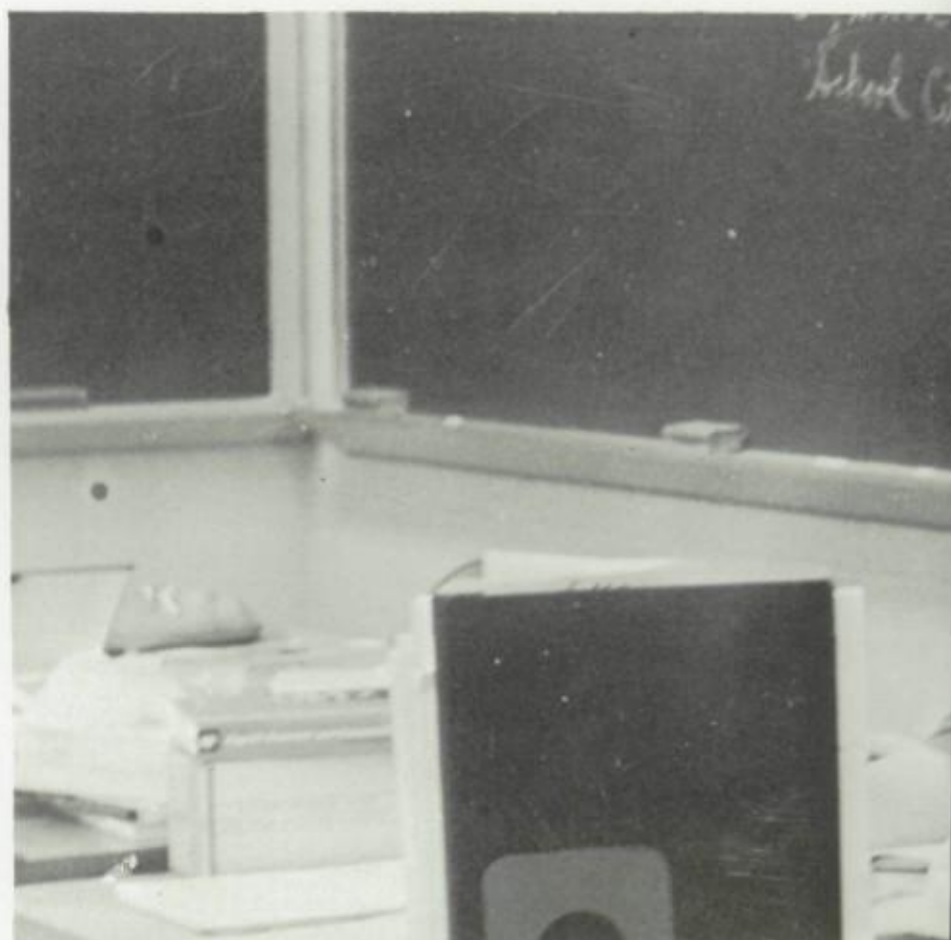

A major change this year was the appointment of Mr. Winfield as guidance counselor. His main duty was helping students decide what to do during and after high school by administering vocational and college entrance tests and counseling privately with students and parents.

Miss Rupp is dean of girls at Archbold High School. "A listening ear is a vital thing," she stated, when asked what she thought about her task. She is advisor to the girls on such matters as, personal appearance, school problems and their social life.

ELAINE SCHNITKEY; B.A. Adrian College

DAVE REX; B.A. Adrian College, M.S. Indiana University

English

Junior English, taught by Mrs. Short enabled the student to discuss freely his idea on the subject at hand. Freedom to discuss literature and to debate about current controversial subjects enabled the student to understand and appreciate the various types of English literature. Mr. Short was also the faculty advisor to the "Blue 'N Gold" which was published by the journalism class.

Mr. Rex taught all of the ninth grade English sections and one of the eighth grade American History sections. His approach to teaching was to meet the individual student's need. Special projects in the form of handmade objects were required last year.

Mrs. Schnitkey utilized a thematic teaching approach for her seventh and eighth grade English students. She also stressed vocabulary practice and usage. The students read and discussed the novel which they were required to read.

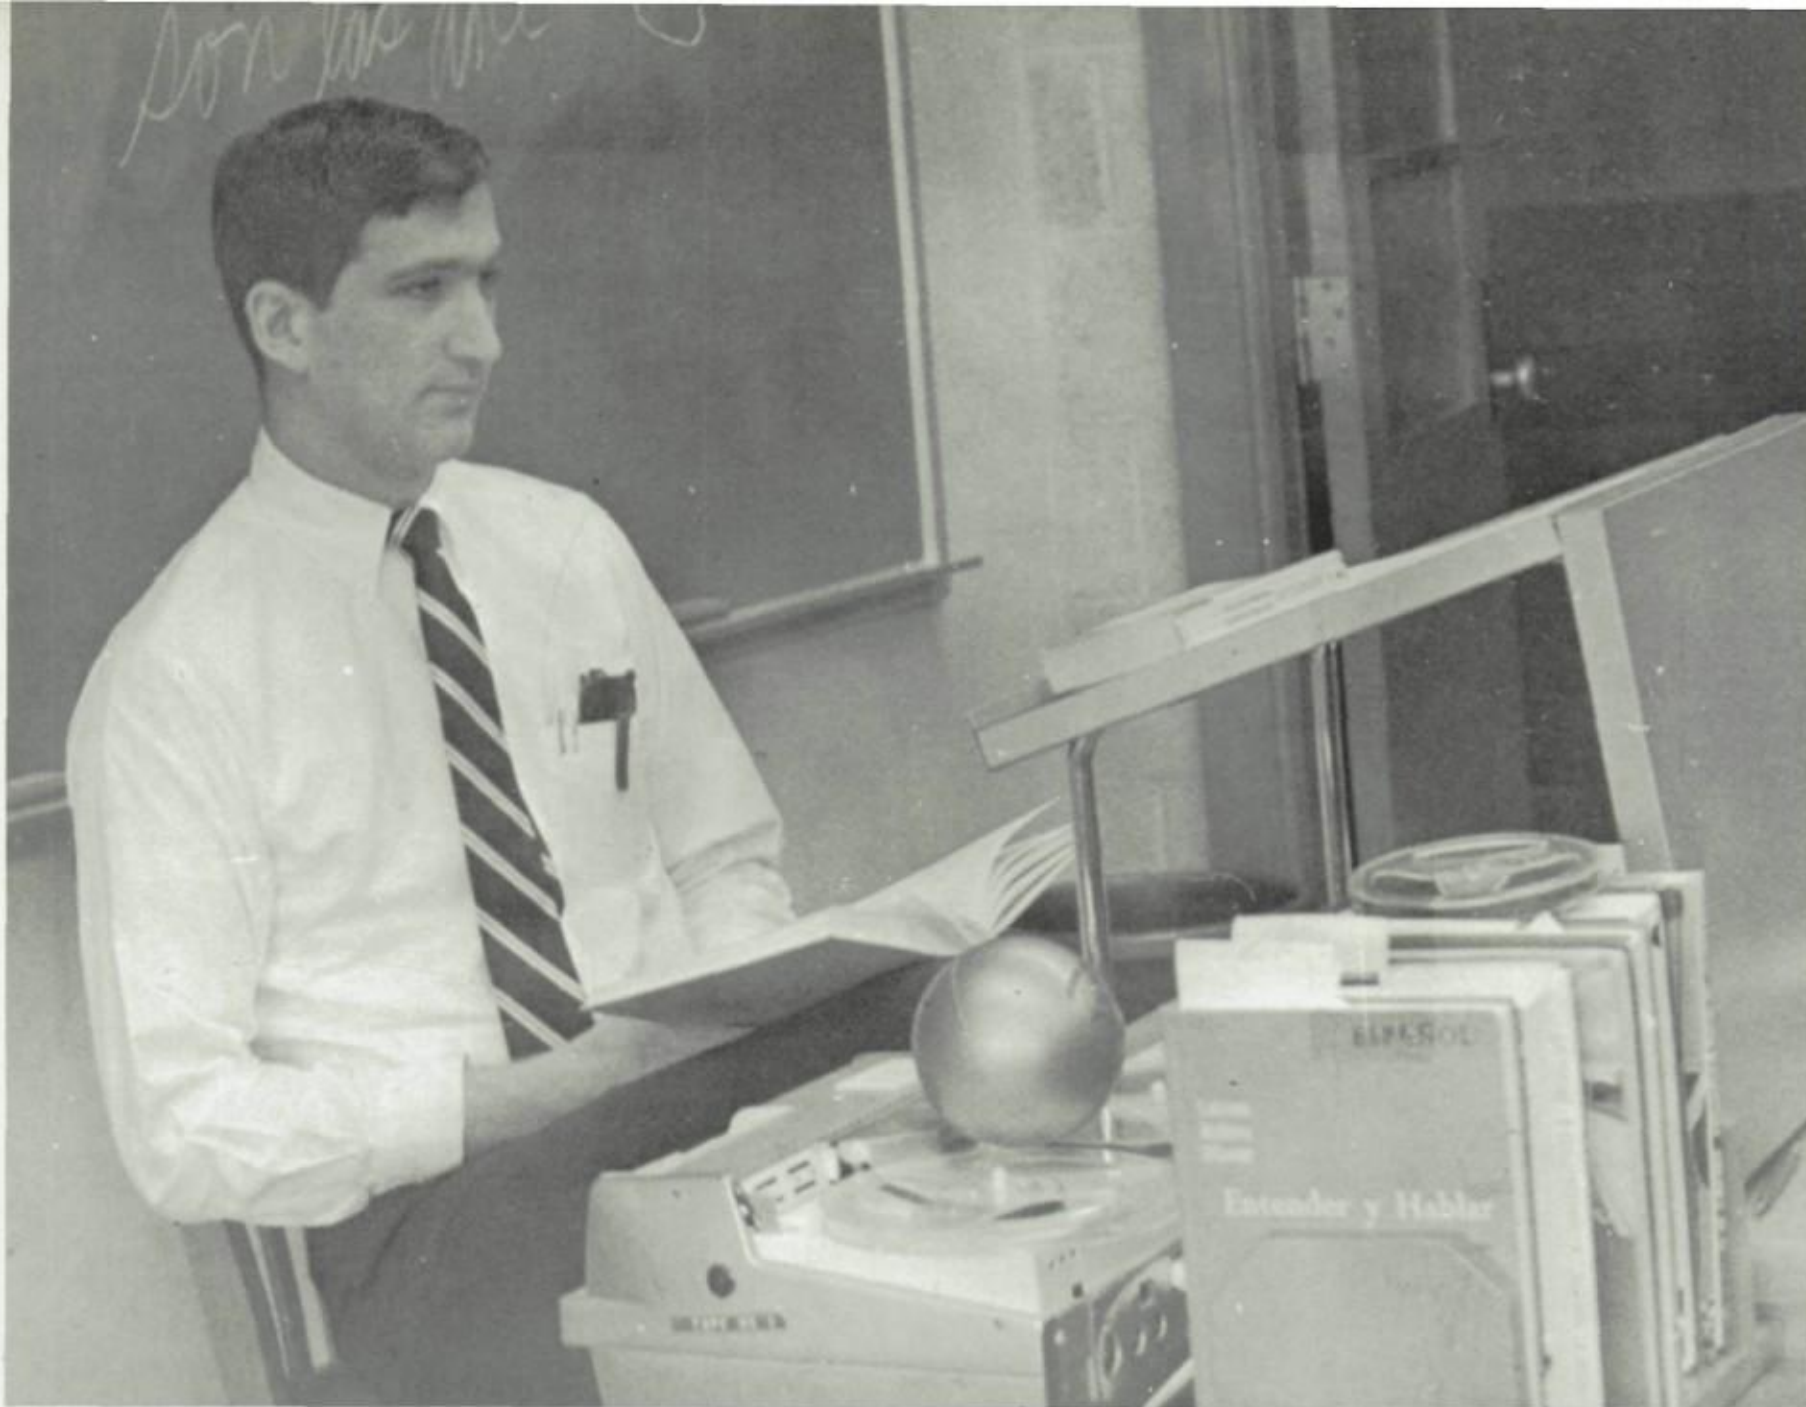

"Spirit" Short

In Miss Krebs' first year at AHS, she taught senior English and sophomore general English. Her goal was to help students learn to appreciate, if not enjoy literature, and to see it for what it is.

SUSAN KREBS; A.B. Bluffton College

KENNETH LAUSE; B.A. Defiance College, Bowling Green State University

Foreign Languages

Spanish gained popularity rapidly this year. Mr. Lause taught Spanish I, II, III, and eighth grade. The teaching method was changed from the grammatical concept to the oral or conversational technique. Mr. Lause used Spanish records, movies, and slides to help the students understand Spanish culture.

Mrs. Bourquin's Latin I and II classes often decorated the room with replicas of old Roman buildings and special seasonal cards. College preparatory English was a challenge to the sophomores. Mrs. Bourquin stressed grammar in her classroom.

High school art classes were taught by Mrs. Kolb. The art students undertook many projects which the entire student body benefited from. This year they have been working with more three-dimensional type figures.

Vocal technique was stressed last year in training choir, small chorus, and large chorus. Mr. Treadway also taught speech classes last year.

As instrumental director, Mr. Winzeler organized a string program last year. The early morning rehearsals were a sacrifice to all concerned, but it was well worth the effort as they progressed.

DELBERT BRANDT; B.S. Defiance College

Mr. Brandt, who did his student teaching at AHS, returned last year to teach eighth grade general math, ninth grade general math, and science survey courses.

GEORGE CLARK; B.S. Defiance College, Bowling Green State University, Iowa State University

JAMES FIELDS; B.S. Pikeville College

Mr. Clark taught Math 12, physics, science survey courses, advanced algebra, and college math. Math was taught in math class, but there was time for enjoying the course as well as learning how to work the problems.

Mr. Fields, a new teacher at AHS, had a busy year teaching Algebra I and II, and geometry. Boardwork is an important part of any math class and this was especially true in Mr. Field's classes.

In Mr. Dilbone's science survey, general science, Biology I and II, and physiology classes, the students learned what science is and how it is used.

Seventh grade geography students and eighth grade science students learned by experience that high school subjects are not elementary. Mr. Buehrer used various outside papers and references in order to give his students a broader knowledge of the subject.

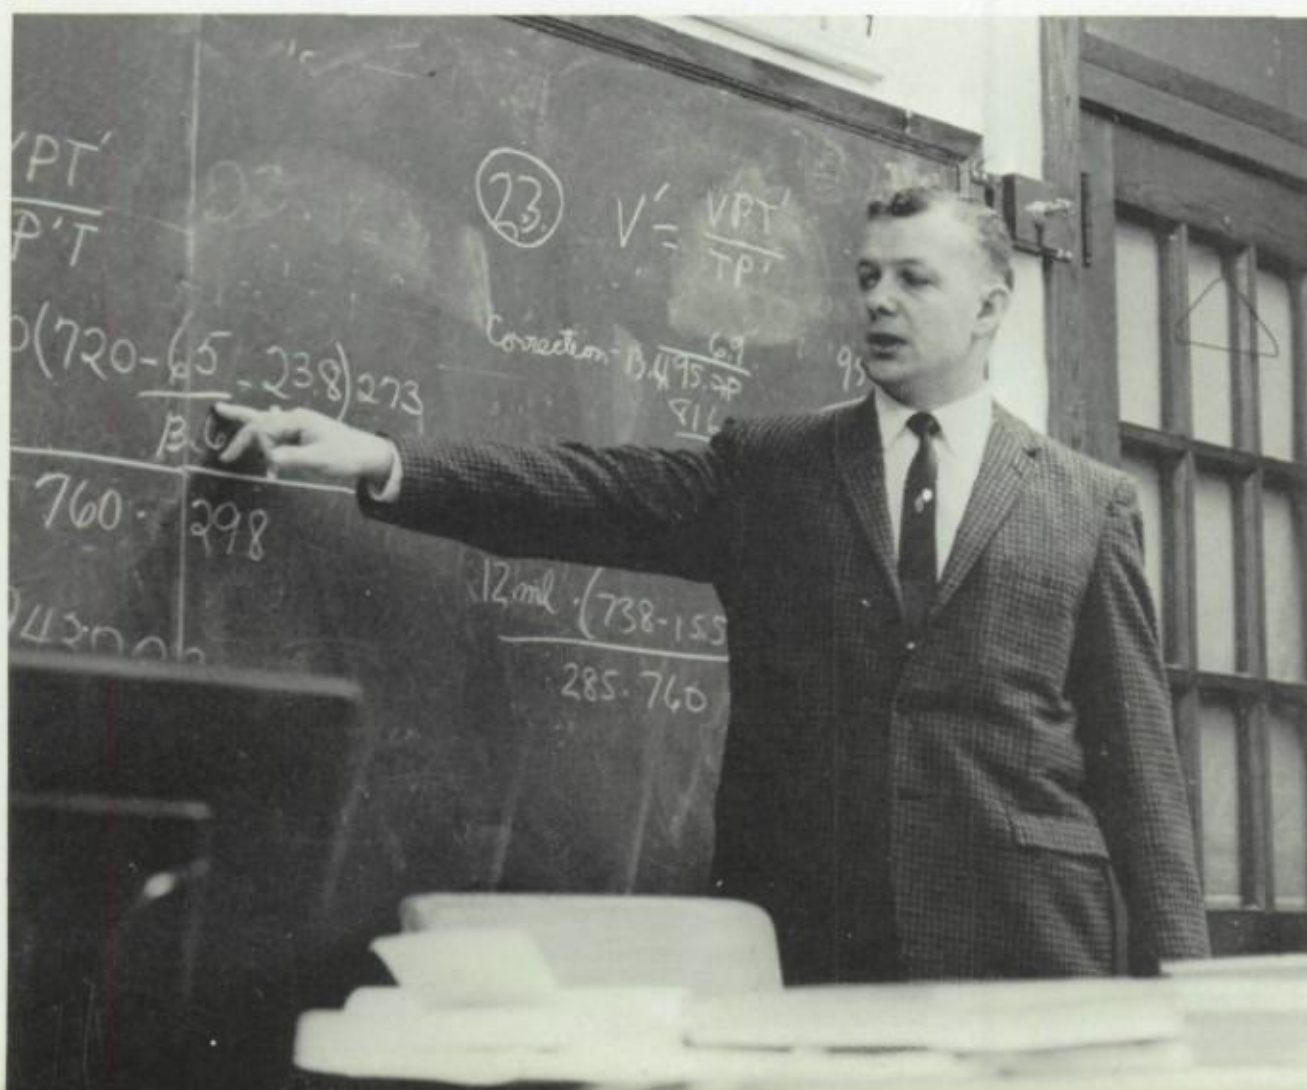

In addition to his seventh grade math and science survey courses, Mr. Geiger had twice as many chemistry students as last year. The ingenuity of Mr. Geiger was tested when twice as many students were in the lab.

RONALD DILBONE; B.S. Adrian College, University of Toledo

STANLEY BUEHRER; B.S. Ohio Northern University, M.A. University of Illinois

GERALD GEIGER; B.S. Defiance College, Bowling Green State University

Social Sciences

Mr. Falor, psychology, American Problems, and American History teacher, was an addition to the AHS faculty last year. He preferred to use lecturing as a method of teaching.

Current events were the main topic of discussion in Mr. Stahl's government classes. Several days per week were devoted to the discussion of current events. Seventh graders in Mr. Stahl's English class were orientated to the high school method of teaching and learning English.

Souvenirs, homemade projects, and old Indian relics characterized the Ohio History room last year. Mrs. Burkholder taught her seventh grade students the importance of studying the history of our seventeenth state. The classes studied the development of the state government, its governmental processes, and the purpose of good citizenship.

Although Mr. Walker was the new athletic director, he still taught health, driver education, and family living. "Annie" was used in his health classes for practicing artificial respiration.

Mr. Miller taught American History and world history, supplementing the courses by using many filmstrips and movies. In his world history classes, Mr. Miller used a book about the new Africa.

Vocational Education

Mrs. Weldy instructed girls in grades 9-12 in home economics and supervised on-the-job training for six senior girls. The formal faculty dinner given by the junior and senior home economics students was held in the spring last year.

Instruction in vocational agriculture, under the supervision of Mr. Gallaway, was given to boys in grades 9-12 who were interested in agriculture. The boys in the ninth and tenth grades studied crops and livestock; the juniors learned about agricultural mechanics.

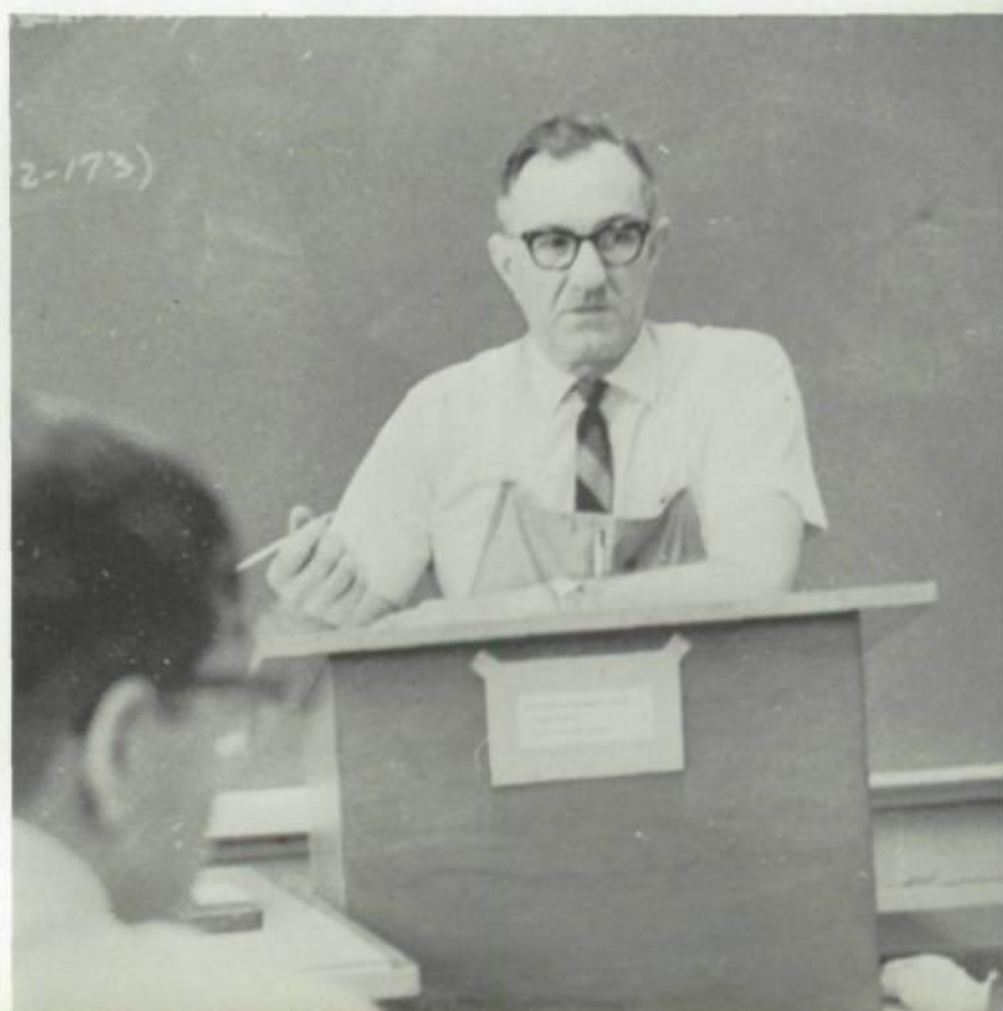

Boys from grades 9-12 displayed their artistic abilities through industrial arts. Under the supervision of Mr. Hornish, the boys were permitted to choose their own projects from the following fields: wood-working, drafting, electronics, electricity, and crafts.

GLEN GALLAWAY; B.S. Ohio State University

DONALD HORNISH; Ohio Northern University, Manchester College

WILBUR MILLER; B.S. Bowling Green State University, M.S.P.H. University of Michigan

Physical Education

Boys from grades 2 through 12 were supervised while they participated in carefully planned activities based on the age levels and physical abilities. High school boys participated in the "jogging and walking" program in which Mr. Miller worked on gradually increasing the boys' physical endurance.

Physical fitness is a very important phase of learning at AHS. Miss Sharp taught physical education to girls from grades 2 through 12. Besides playing the various sports, the girls learned where and how the games originated.

CHARLOTTE SHARP; B.A. Adrian College, University of Toledo

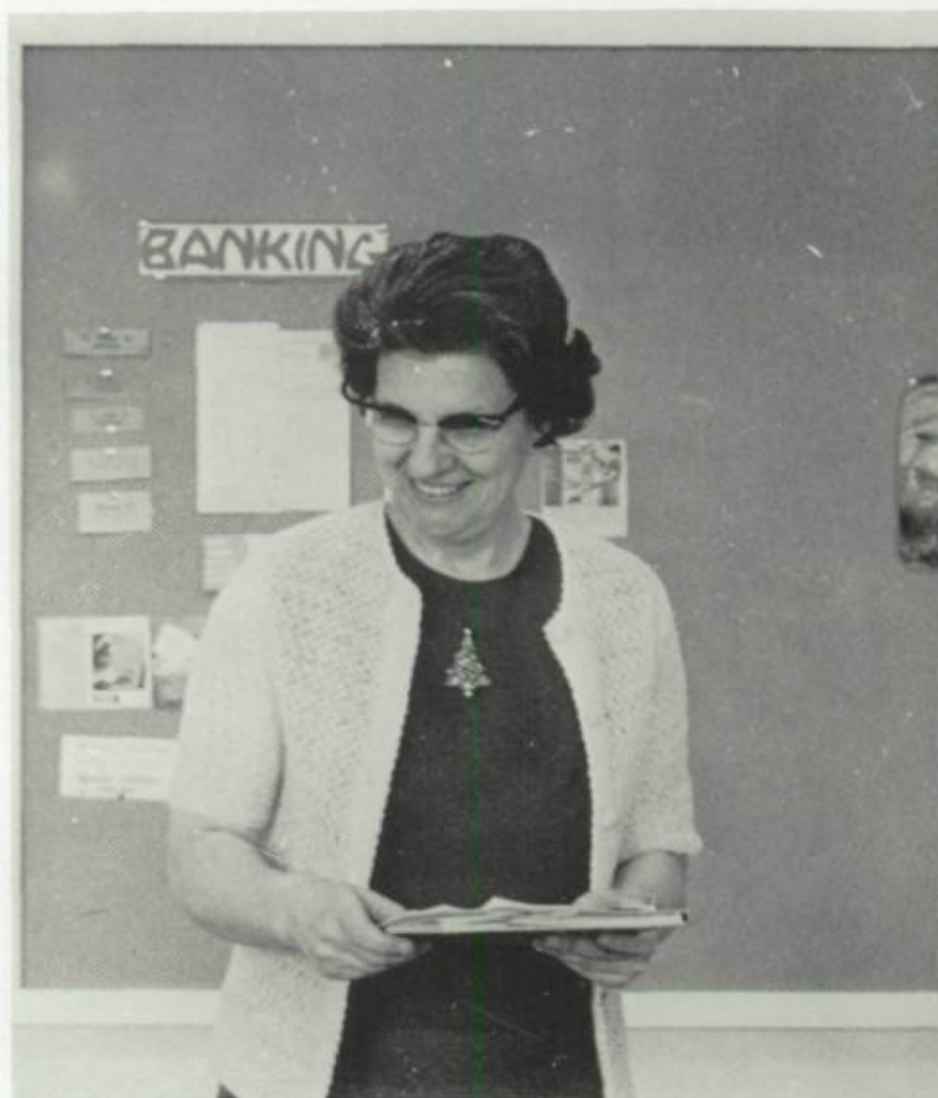

ELVA KEIM; A.B. Spokane University, University of Washington, Ohio State University, Ohio Northern University, Defiance College

Business Education

Typing is becoming more and more important to all students. Mrs. Keim had four sections of Typing I and two sections of Typing II. She also taught Shorthand. This year working with stencils was an extra project.

In addition to being the dean of women, Miss Rupp taught Bookkeeping I and II, General Business, and Intensified Business. This was the first year Intensified Business was offered at AHS. It gave students a chance to prepare for office work by working with office machinery.

ACTIVITIES

The saleslady at Bargain City said she liked the dress.

Archbold High School was filled with the "Sound of Music" on March 28, 30, 31, April 1, and 3, 1967, as an all school cast presented the stage production of the well-known musical.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Walter Treadway and choreographers Clark Taylor and Anita Kline, and the musical talents of Mrs. Treadway, Larry Beck, and a student orchestra, the stage production was a huge success.

Capacity crowds filled the auditorium each night. However, many were unable to see it.

The two lead parts were played by Jill Dominique, portraying Maria, and Lynn Aschliman as Captain Von Trapp.

Palm trees, a beach scene, straw huts, and a volcano contributed to the background scenery of the 1967 Junior-Senior Banquet, "Blue Hawaii."

The Juniors began their journey to the shores of beautiful Blue Hawaii Thursday evening.

On Friday evening, May 12, they reached their destination.

Following the dinner and introductory speeches by Jill Dominique, Randy Pape, and Mr. Murbach, everyone fell into a trance as the hypnotist, Mr. Laibe, began his program. After awakening from a deep sleep, everyone enjoyed viewing baby pictures of the Seniors.

Adding to the entertainment of the evening was a dance band from Hilltop. The movie "Follow Me Boys" was followed by a breakfast served in the high school gym.

After an enjoyable evening, resulting in a minimum amount of sleep for each student, the Juniors returned to clean up and to view "Blue Hawaii" for the last time.

Archbold's Homecoming festivities began Thursday evening in the park where the annual burning of the dummy took place. The students' enthusiasm was at its peak as they yelled the victory battlecry.

Homecoming day dawned bright and sunny!! It was a day filled with the traditional Homecoming spirit. A snake dance, led by the varsity cheerleaders, proceeded through the center of town and back to the blacktop where the students cheered the AHS team to their third victory of the season.

Queen And Court

Beginning the festivities of the evening was the annual supper sponsored by the band parents. Promptly at 7:45, October 6, 1967, Queen Carol Schnitkey and her court arrived at the football field. Following the presentation of the attendants and crowning of Queen Carol by the 1966 queen, Becky Schrock, the game began.

Queen Carol and her court saw a thrilling performance by the AHS band. The big top opened and the halftime show, "Circus Daze", was presented. Death-defying tightrope acts, beautiful girls tossing brightly colored balls, and trained animals all added a certain splendor to the well-rehearsed show.

The Bluestreak football team presented the Queen, court, and fans with a 20-8 victory over the Hicksville Aces.

Football Marching Band

Touchdown!

At the sound of the half-time gun, Drum Major Roth blew his whistle, the drums rolled and the band poured onto the field. Highlighting the half-time shows were a "real" circus for homecoming and "The Tijuana Brass" show, bringing a little Mexican accent to Archbold. For the first time in several years, a drum major was added to the band. The blacktop parking area was used for morning rehearsals, saving the students a long walk to the football field.

For a defensive star, Dave played great offense.

Great Year!!

Archbold's Bluestreaks continued the fine basketball tradition at AHS this year and somewhat glorified it. The Streaks compiled 18 consecutive victories, won their third undefeated NWOAL title, sported the fourth undefeated team in the history of the school, were rated "Top Team in Northwestern Ohio", and acquired high state ratings.

It was a most rewarding season for the eight seniors on the squad. As the headline above expresses: This year AHS had a great team, coached by a great coach, and experienced a great season. In short: '68 was GREAT!!

Under New Head Coach

Coach Ron Dilbone, in his first year as head coach, led the Streaks to a winning season. The Streaks ended the season with a 5 and 4 record.

Although Coach Dilbone would have been happier with several more wins on the scoreboard, in general the team showed ability, drive and determination throughout the season.

Bob Rose took top yardage gained honors and received the most valuable player award. Dave Rychener and Steve Schnitkey were chosen co-captains for the year, and Dale Clark was selected most improved player.

Season

Archbold's wrestlers had a very outstanding season this year, ending with an 8-1 record for the regular season. The Streaks also won the Napoleon Gold Medal Tournament and placed second in the league meet, losing to Napoleon by one point.

The grappler's only undefeated member was Roy Hartshorn, a junior. Andy Grime, spark of the team, was beaten only once and went to the State Tournament in the 154 pound class. Coach Falor, in his first year at AHS, was very happy with this fine record and with the individual performances of his matmen.

Veteran wrestler Andy Grime wins again.

ORGANIZATIONS

Annual Staff

"Security is buying your '68 yearbook", was a familiar trademark echoed in the hallowed halls of Archbold High School during the yearbook sales. Each annual staff member worked diligently to sell yearbooks to students and teachers for "Peanuts"!

The '68 annual staff members spent many hours laboring over layouts, pictures and copying write-ups for the annual, which came out in the spring. The competent members of the staff were: Mary Weires and Dave Zimmerman, co-editors; Sharon King, Beverly Rupp, Mary Rich, Jeff Smith, Kathy Springer, Sue Schultz, Nancy Rueger, Steve Nafziger, Bob Clark and Gene Wyse. The head "Peanut" was Mr. Charles Winzeler.

Sharon "lining" up a page!?

Blue 'N Gold

Beware of unidentified flying objects and explosive tempers, the Journalism class is working. This was the warning issued to students wishing to enter the Journalism classroom. Journalism class usually began with the low buzzing of students cogitating and discussing new page layouts and ended in complete pandemonium with everyone shouting at everyone else. Despite a few, near-disasterous incidents, the bi-weekly publication came out on time. Although the "Blue 'N Gold" was called "The daily disappointment", by some, it provided enjoyable reading for many students.

The Council's officers

Student Council

The Student Council under the leadership of Rick Stotzer, President; Dave Rychener, Vice President; and Carol Schnitkey, Secretary-Treasurer; accomplished a great deal last year. The Council was responsible for electing the cheerleaders, arranging chapel programs, establishing hall regulations and decorating the Christmas trees. The Council's advisors were Mrs. Keim and Mr. Dilbone.

I suppose you could do better!?

National Honor Society

Outstanding students in the upper one-fourth of the junior and senior classes were selected to be members of the National Honor Society. These members were chosen by a panel of teachers from the academic subject areas. The students were selected on their performances in academic fields of study and on their extracurricular activities.

The officers for the past year were: Dave Zimmerman, President; Nancy Rueger, Vice President; and Mary Weires, Secretary-Treasurer. The NHS members voted on the "Senior of the Year" award for the most deserving class member and presented the award on Awards Day.

The teachers who chose the NHS members were: Mr. Treadway, Mrs. Keim, Mrs. Short, Miss Rupp, Mr. Dilbone, Mr. Clark, Mr. Walker, Mr. J. Miller, Mr. Geiger, and Mrs. Bourquin.

FHA

The Future Homemakers of America were very busy this year with Becky Miller presiding as president. The other officers were: Emma Lugo, Vice-President; Bonnie Lauber, Secretary; Donna Stamm, Treasurer; and Jane Short, Reporter. The advisor was Mrs. Weldy.

During this year, each member took a child of her choice to the Toledo Zoo for the day. They also went trick-or-treating for U.N.I.C.E.F. All of their proceeds went to the United Nations Children's Fund to help a needy and deserving child overseas.

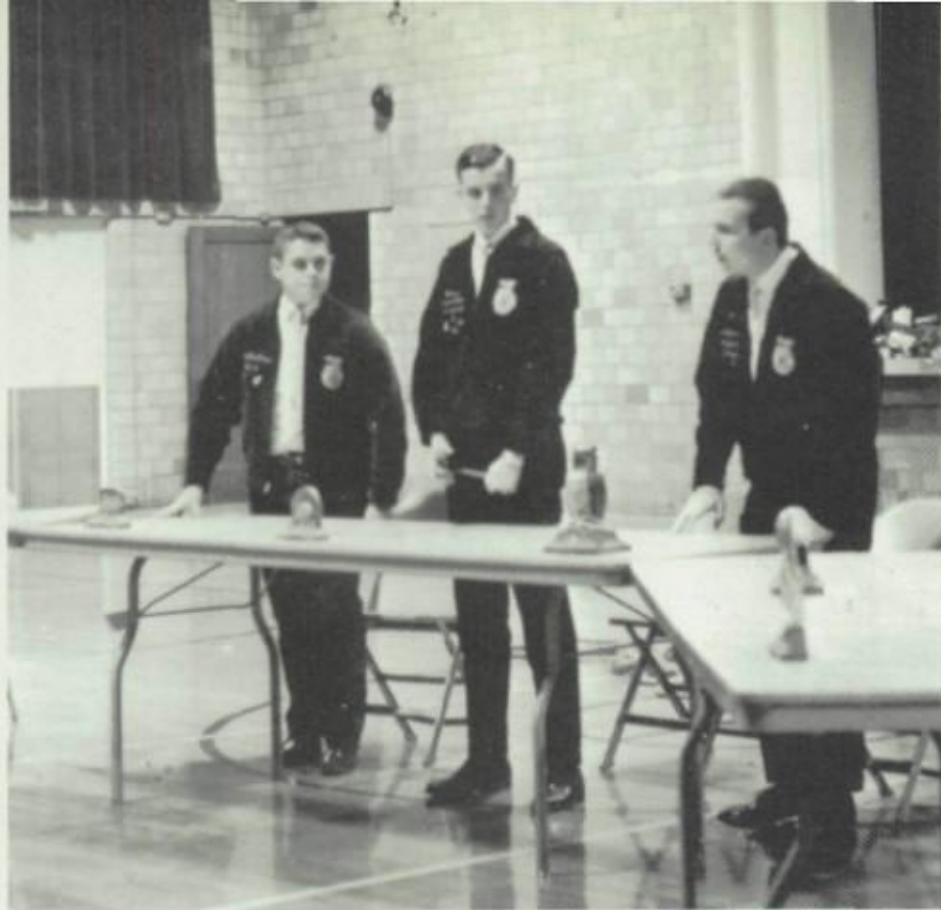

This past year the FHA worked for their award of merit. They had to have three national projects in order to receive it.

Forty-two boys were actively involved in the Future Farmers of America last year. Each boy was permitted to choose his own projects. Those boys completed close to one hundred projects. Last year, several judging teams were chosen and trained by Mr. Gallaway to enter in the district competition. The boys have set a tradition and except for a few years, they have won the district title and have gone on to state. The well-trained parliamentary team upheld their tradition when they received a gold rating at their competition. Each fall, the boys show their projects at the county fair. The Parent-Son Banquet and the annual Christmas FHA-FFA banquet were two of the outstanding features of FFA life.

Science Club

On the evening of October 16, the members of the Sci-Questa club of Archbold High School accomplished the museful task of organizing their club. Due to the stimulus induced by one teacher, a record-breaking attendance was on hand for the first meeting. After a few brief nominating and voting sessions, the following people were elected to office: Kathy Springer, President; Bill Rufenacht, Vice President; Sharon King, Secretary; Marlene Wyse, Treasurer; and Steve Rettig, Chief Janitor.

The Science club had monthly meetings with its astute advisors, George Clark, Eugene Winfield, Ron Dilbone and Gerald Geiger attempting to maintain order. The members operated the coat check and concession stands at the ball games. The speakers were excellent but the high points of Science club were the science fairs. The Science club members put forth a great effort to organize and correlate the fairs.

FTA

Miss Rupp and Nancy discuss the club's tentative goals.

Members of the FTA served as assistant teachers in the elementary and high school this past year. Nancy Hootman presided over the monthly meetings of the FTA. Speakers lectured on subjects ranging from "Head Start" program to "what college life is really like."

The FTA officers were: Nancy Hootman, President; Arlene Bechtel, Vice President; Mary Weires, Secretary-Treasurer; and Nancy Rueger, Historian. The advisor was Miss Rupp.

Librarians

Students at Archbold were privileged to make use of the McLaughlin Memorial Library. The library is well-stocked with current literature and reference books. Maude Fankhauser, the head librarian and her assistants, Mrs. Mary Schlatter, and Mrs. Myra Short were responsible for Archbold's well-organized library system.

"Reading maketh a full man."

Pep Club

"Go Blue" was the cheer that rose to the rafters of the AHS gym as the enthusiastic Pep Club cheered on its mighty Bluestreak team. The favorite cheerleader of young and old was fifth grade teacher and eighth grade basketball coach, Mr. Stevens. When we were behind on just plain lagging, the 6'3", former basketball star, would take the floor and lead cheers that nearly brought the house down.

The Pep Club not only put their voices into the games, but also their time and energy. They were put in charge of making hoops and keeping the bulletin board up to date on basketball statistics. All in all, the Pep Club helped boost the Bluestreak spirit. The advisors were Miss Sharp and Mrs. Short.

The incredulous G.A.A. teams were under the capable leadership of Mary Rich and the counselling of Miss Sharp.

MR. HOBLET, Principal

The challenge of being an elementary principal is difficult but rewarding. Mr. Hoblet has a busy schedule in the morning in the Archbold elementary office, an exciting and demanding noon hour program, and often travels to Elmira to complete the day with more work. His tremendous trust and devotion to the students and his faith in the integrity of his faculty, makes the Archbold Elementary School a very fine school.

Patron Directory

The following businessmen, merchants, professional men, service clubs and others have made this annual possible through their fine cooperation and financial assistance. The 1968 Blue Streak Staff and the entire Senior Class wish to thank all who are listed in the Directory for their kindly assistance and encouragement. The presence of your name indicates your support, your interest in the school and the youth of this community.
